Description :

Prsentation de l'diteurThe 2012 Apocalypse happened just not in the way anyone expected. How have we not noticed?Simple: civilized man has lost touch with himself. How then can he expect to be in touch with the world he smothers in a crypt of concrete and steel? Only Wolf Howl, a Native American whose spiritual center is still intact, notices the change. But that same spirituality and the power derived from it has made the last Lakota shaman a hunted man. Now, he finds himself teamed with the Turquoise Woman: the Spirit of the Earth, a Mossad agent named Shadow, a young killer: Abby, and the amazingly still alive Nikola Tesla. Together with the ancient star exile, Bast, they must find some way to stop a menace that cannot be stopped by any known physical force. The answer lies in the strengths of the Lakota: Transformation how Wolf Howl learns to preserve what is fundamental even in the frigid void of Space. Simplicity the lesson taught by the Turquoise Woman that the more you know, the less you need to carry. Strength and Resiliency what the history and lore of the Lakota taught Wolf Howl about growing through adversity. Purpose how the world unveils our purpose to us if we but listen. And that a sacrifice to save others is a sacred quest as buried corn is born anew to give life when needed. RETURN OF THE LAST SHAMAN A Native American Fable for Our Age.
